Not illustrated. 1909 Excerpt: .in which I would bring out nothing (that is no point of importance) I would at least succeed in getting the members of the Club to talk. I am going to say in my own defense that I studiously refrained from telling you anything; I could not tell you much of anything, but I kept from trying to tell you anything with the expectation that I could listen and learn something. The result is that Colonel Symons and myself (both from Missouri, by the way) have done about all the talking, and to some extent I am disappointed. I am grateful to Colonel Symons. The President: I feel assured the gentlemen here present have been so entertained that they have not felt that they would like to stop the flow of eloquence and information that has been coming from Mr. Symons and yourself, and I want on the part of those present, to thank you both for your kind discussion, and you in particular for the paper which has started discussion. If there is nothing further to be said on the subject, this meeting will stand adjourned. OF THE WESTERN RAILWAY CLUB Organized April, 1884 Incorporated March, 1897 Library, 390 Old Colony Bldg.
